Thank you for your interest in holding a virtual food drive to benefit the Food Bank of Central & Eastern North Carolina! Setting up your virtual food drive is quick and easy. To get started, determine which kind of drive you’d like to hold:

Individual Drive
Will you have only one page where everyone will donate? Set up an individual drive. These are perfect for a personal event, an honor or memorial, neighborhood or company drive.

Creating a Team
Start a team! Teams are perfect for competitions between company divisions, a marathon or event where participants will hold create their own fundraising pages, or a school in which parents or alumni will hold their own drives. All funds raised by the team members will count towards the team goal.

Join a Team
Individuals can create their own pages and join a team that has already been created. (See page 3.)

After you set up your page, you’ll be directed to your Participant Center where you can customize your page, send invitations to your participants, and add cash or check donations that you may receive. Team Captains will be given access to manage the team page.

How Teams Work
Are you thinking about making your virtual food drive a group effort or a friendly competition? Then a Team Page is right for you! Each team needs a Team Captain to set up the team page and enter the team goal. Team Captains will set up the team page as well as their own personal virtual food drive fundraising page. Team Captains can invite team members to join the team and invite their own friends, family and colleagues to donate to their personal page. The fundraising results from all the team member pages will be reflected on the team page thermometer as well as a Team Roster with individual totals. Teams that reach milestones of raising $1,000, $2,000, or $3,000 will receive a Trophy Badge on their page. (See page 4: How to Start a Team for more details on badges.)
